Georgia Economy

Site Selection Magazine ranked Georgia as a top state in which to do business for the eighth year in a row. The Atlanta area is home to the headquarters of 16 companies that rank in the Fortune 500 and 29 companies in the Fortune 1000.

In August 2021, Governor Brian Kemp announced new investments totaling $10.97 billion and the creation of 33,439 jobs in the State through 379 projects during fiscal year 2021. For the second consecutive year, Atlanta was named the No. 1 Tech Hub in the United States by Business Facilities Magazine.

“The pandemic reminded us of how critical our existing industry and international relationships are to Georgia’s economic success. We have had to think creatively and react innovatively in order to help businesses successfully locate and expand while continuing to attract key industries to the state. Our full-service, seamless approach to doing business has proven to be a successful formula in securing new opportunities for Georgians.”
