
Major Interdisciplinary Performances Ideas

1. Collect news reports from overseas, and in groups work to produce an international newspaper that reflects the perspectives in foreign countries with those in the United States.
2. Produce a well supported recommendation to consumers based on a study of “truth in advertising.”
3. Write and share or perform stories/plays around real-world problems and solutions.
4. Based on a survey of at least 20 students and 10 parents of children between the ages of 5 and 10, determine the predominant position in your sample toward regulating violence in cartoons on Saturday mornings. Develop and present a position paper to be presented to your local television station that represents this predominant position and supports it using the constitution and recent court rulings.
5. Create and operate a micro-society.
